

Echole USA, 2021 New Product Introduction

Echole Omnia and Limited Edition cable models have a new model 2 introduction. The model 2 introduction will only cover these two models in the long-run.

For both models, Model 2 grade an alloy is engineered where the Silver, Gold and Palladium ratio in the solid core alloy is re-considered. Further, the terminations are Furutech's reference terminations to comply with the new performance level that is a substantial step up from the original Omnia and Limited Edition models.

The end users agree, the critiques agree. With both the Omnia 2 and Limited Edition 2, everything is there. Balanced from top to bottom yet with lots of bloom and air around and behind the singer and instruments, exceptionally high rich harmonics and lots of low-level detail within a very deep soundstage. The guttural lows, the pinched yet mesmerizing highs, the truth of the instruments and the full measure of the performers interpretive genius comes to life with the model 2. The sound is clear, warm, fully controlled yet in complete freedom from top to bottom, and rich without getting euphonic. The trumpets blast, percussions slam with a realism of a recording venue.